The Management of the Bayerische Staatsgemäldesammlungen

The Alte Pinakothek is one of the world's most important art museums. The museum is home to one of the largest collections devoted to the works of Albrecht Dürer and Peter Paul Rubens. Altdorfer and Cranach, Jan Brueghel the Elder and van Dyck, Raphael and Titian, Poussin and Murillo are also represented with numerous important works. Over 700 paintings are on exhibit in the consummate gallery building, which was commissioned by King Ludwig I and built by his architect Leo von Klenze from 1826 to 1836.
